He expects to see it off tomorrow, but will remain at his post unless a declaration of war or a deliberate act of war by the de facto government should make it necessary for him to leave.

That policy has not geen changed, he said, and no military step that has been taken has any other object. General Carranza was officially informed of this in the note which went forward today.

Militia Needed Immediately.

To carry out his share in the policy, General Funsion sent a long code despatch to Secretary Baker today, indicating what portion of the 100,000 guardsmen ordered under arms he heeds immediately to reinforce his berder guard. The points at which he wishes the men mobilized and the proportions of infantry, cavairy and artillery he desires to have at each place were included.

Assignment will be made from the first state units to be mustered into the service. Preliminary arrangements were discussed today with rall-road officials for their prompt transportation to points selected by General Eurasian.

Note Ready for Marching Orders.

None of the guardsmen summoned under President Wilson's call were ready tonight for marching orders. It may be several days before the first regiments are mustered in, as the menwill: have to be examined physically, additional camp equipment assembled for them and arrangements made for the trains to carry them to the border.

The entire guard of the District of Columbia will be under canvas tomorrow at Fort Myer, Va., ready for muster. Several states also are expected to complete their mobilisation by tomorrow night and a decision may then he reached as to which forces will be moved first. Not Ready for Marching Orders.

Recruiting Stations Crowded.

War department officials are gratified at reports of crowded regruting stations in several states. They also are pleased that the governors of virtually all states which have important national guard units which were not summoned, have sought permission to forward their entire continger.

COURSE TO BE PURSUED Believed That Military Occupation of Northern Mexico Has Been Consid-

Washington, June 26. — There was much speculation here on all sides to-night as to the probable course of the president should Carranza order an attack on General Pershing's men in the face of the American government's solemn warning. It was generally believed that the hint contained in Section 18 of the Cont lieved that the hint contained in Secretary Lansing's note that military occupation of northern Mexico has been considered as an alternative at times when the situation beyond the horder appeared critical, might indicate the plan of action should war now be forced on the nation. As a preliminary step to such an occupation and pending an organization of an army of the size of such an undertaking would require, it was regarded as possible that a general advance from the border to a line paralleling the head of General Pershing's column at Namiquipa might be undertaken. With FINAL WORD TO CARRANZA It Arraigns the De Facto President Washington, June 20.—The note de-livered today is viewed here as Pres-ident's final word to General Carran-za. It makes no overtures for furth-er discussion and leaves virtually no head of General Pershing's column at Namiquipa might be undertaken. With American forces disposed along such a line, holding important towns and strategic points from the Pacific to the Gulf coast, there would be no fear of serious hostilities at the border. Any advancing Mexican force would be subject to attack from the rear should it move northward of this advanced line.

Mr. Daniels explained that the necessity of putting many small ships, usually held in reserve, into commission for service in southern waters made it imperative that the navy be recruited up promptly. It is possible the authorization for the increase will be sought in a separate measure to avoid delay. San Antonio. Tex., June 20.—Facing Carranea's army in northern Mexico there will be stationed along the Rio Grande within a week or ten days an American force that will total, it was stated today, almost 70,600 mem.

General Funston has requested the war department to send him quickly as possible a large part of the national guardsmen and advices received late today indicated that entraining of the first troops will begin tomorrow. As fast as they arrive in the south they will be sent to the stations chosen. A part will be brought to San Antonio and held here as a reserve, but a part of them will be within sight of Mexico when they get off the trains.

General Funston did not announce how many men he has asked for nor the stations to which they will be sent, but it is known that he expectal more than a division, and it was said that not less than 28,000 men would be sent.

The exact disposition of the troops, even the exact number now beyond the border, constitute military secrets. There is reason to believe, however, that between 10,000 and 13,000 regulars are posted at the advance camps or along the line of communications. Relief expeditions are also said to have been organized also at various border points, ready to dash forward in finals.

The action is the outgrowth of impeachment proceedings brought against him by Representative Buchanan and the subcommittee which investigated them and whose motives he impugned already recommended against impeachment.

Speaker Clark probably will issue a warrant tomorrow, but some of Mr. Marshall's friends said tonight he might anticipate its service and appear voluntarily. Although house leaders have indicated that they would be satisfied with a reprimand, a more severe punishment, including imprisonment might be imposed should the house so decide.
